

Joseph N. Amorosi
9/7/1932 - 12/4/2007

To my loving father, who has entered the gates of paradise. You were always there to pick me up when I fell. You always gave me the inspiration to succeed. You have always been the force that pushed me to strive for excellence. You will always be the fire that keeps my spirit burning. Your legacy will endure on my shoulders.

The Matrix Of Legacy

Admiration is the stepping-stone of respect.

Respect is the cornerstone of appreciation.

Appreciation is the foundation of discipline.

Discipline is the basis of control.

Control is the origin of spirit.

Spirit is the underlying element in ones legacy.

Legacy is that which remains long after the sculptor is gone.
